Here's 2 example prg sheets, that the results are in the word table for scenarios and parameters you'll see in the columns

And the DOE proposal from 4/9/20, which we thought was going to lead to this type of meeting last may/june, but was 'squashed' from DOE HQ/ORR

So when I run through the calculator Monday you should see how the water conc'n [pCi/L] is the end result, with the fish 'defaults' and BCF 'default' parameters

So we can discuss any Qs from these, Shanna, before the Monday 4pm call if you want, I'm open til 2pm
